(“CFP® Board”). The CFP® certification is a voluntary certification; no federal or state law or regulation requires financial planners to hold CFP® certification. The CFP® is recognized in the United States and a number of other countries for its (1) high standard of professional education; (2) stringent code of conduct and standards of practice; and (3) ethical requirements that govern professional engagements with clients. CFP® certificate holders are bound by CFP® Board’s Standards of Professional Conduct, a set of documents outlining the ethical and practice standards for CFP® professionals.

To earn the credential, each CFP® candidate must have a bachelor’s degree (or higher) from an accredited college or university and three years of full-time personal financial planning experience. In addition, candidates must take the CFP® Certification examination and complete a CFP® -board registered program or hold an accepted designation, degree or license. Every two years, CFP® certificate holders must complete a minimum of 30 hours of continuing education. More information regarding the CFP® is available at <http://www.cfp.net/default.asp>.

Chartered Financial Consultant (ChFC®)

The ChFC® designation has been a mark of excellence for financial planners for almost thirty years and currently requires more courses than any other financial planning credential. The curriculum covers extensive education and application training in all aspects of financial planning, income taxation, investments, and estate and retirement planning.

To attain the right to use the ChFC® marks, take a proctored exam for each course of study, have 3 years of full-time, relevant business experience within the five years preceding the awarding of the designation, and complete a minimum of 30 hours continuing education every two years. More information regarding the ChFC® can be found at <https://www.theamericancollege.edu/designations-degrees/ChFC>.

The CRC® certification is a professional development program that enables financial professionals to address the challenges facing today’s retirees. The CRC® program was developed over a two-year period of original research and analysis by a team of 100 highly respected retirement practitioners in partnership with the academic guidance of the Center for Financial Responsibility at Texas Tech University. Prerequisites for this designation include a bachelor’s degree, two years of professional experience, and passing a background check. ITEM 4 - OTHER BUSINESS ACTIVITIES

In addition to his role with Beacon Pointe Advisors, LLC, William Rosenthal is a licensed insurance agent for Beacon Pointe Insurance Services, LLC (“BPIS”). Beacon Pointe Advisors, LLC is affiliated with BPIS. BPIS is a licensed insurance agency. BPIS receives commissions on insurance products client purchase, and William Rosenthal is eligible to receive a portion of these commissions. Clients pay separate fees for advisory services and insurance products or services. William Rosenthal spends a portion of his time as a registered representative of Purshe Kaplan Sterling Investments, a non-affiliated registered broker-dealer. When effecting transactions, he is eligible to receive compensation, commissions and/or trailing 12b-1 fees from Purshe Kaplan Sterling Investments for products held by BPA’s advisory clients. Receipt of this type of transaction-related compensation is a conflict of interest as it gives William Rosenthal an incentive to recommend investment products based on the additional compensation received. BPA will not charge advisory fees on the portion of the client's portfolio that includes investment products for which William Rosenthal receives commissions and/or trailing 12b-1 fees. In all instances, BPA will ensure that BPA clients are provided with a disclosure that outlines the commissions and/or trailing 12b-1 fees that William Rosenthal receives.
