Professional Designations

Lucia Shah holds the following professional designations:

Certified Financial Planner (CFP®)

The CERTIFIED FINANCIAL PLANNER™ and CFP® (collectively, the “CFP® marks”) are professional certification marks granted in the United States by Certified Financial Planner Board of Standards, Inc. (“CFP® Board”). The CFP® certification is a voluntary certification; no federal or state law or regulation requires financial planners to hold CFP® certification. The CFP® is recognized in the United States and a number of other countries for its (1) high standard of professional education; (2) stringent code of conduct and standards of practice; and (3) ethical requirements that govern professional engagements with clients. CFP® certificate holders are bound by the CFP® Board’s Standards of Professional Conduct, a set of documents outlining the ethical and practice standards for CFP® professionals.

To earn the credential, each CFP® candidate must have a bachelor’s degree (or higher) from an accredited college or university and three years of full-time personal financial planning experience. In addition, candidates must take the CFP® Certification examination and complete a CFP Board Registered Program or hold an accepted designation, degree or license. Every two years, CFP® certificate holders must complete a minimum of 30 hours of continuing education. More information about the CFP® is available at <http://www.cfp.net/default.asp>.

Tax Planning Certified Professional (TPCP®)

The Tax Planning Certified Professional® (TPCP®) is a specialized designation credential offered by The American College of Financial Services that provides financial professionals with comprehensive tax planning training. Unlike the tax planning role of a CPA or attorney, whose income tax planning advice focuses on individual items and current expenses, the TPCP® focuses on giving professionals insights into tax-informed planning over a long-term time horizon; in other words, becoming a tax planning specialist who considers the bigger picture and how clients’ decisions now and in the future can lead to minimizing their tax burdens and maximizing their income.

To earn this tax planning certification, candidates must complete the three-course program including all associated classwork and a final exam for each course. Advisors take tax planning courses with subject matter including tax implications of investment vehicles, retirement planning and savings distribution, and minimizing state and federal taxes for individuals and business owners. More information about the TPCP® is available at: <https://www.theamericancollege.edu/learn/professional-designations-certifications/tpcp>
